The CDS invites applications for the following faculty positions:

Associate Professor (6): Pay Band of Rs. 15600-39100 with Rs. 8000 as grade pay. Applicants should have a doctorate and published research of high quality with a minimum of five years' teaching and research experience. Candidates with an outstanding academic and research experience of ten years or more with publications may be considered for placement in Pay Band of Rs. 37400-67000 with grade pay of Rs. 9000. Age limit is 40 years.

Assistant Professor (2): Pay Band of Rs. 15600-39100 with Rs. 6000 as grade pay. Applicants should have a doctorate, or have submitted their thesis. Published research would be an advantage. Age limit is 32 years.

Visiting Faculty (2): Appointment may be made in a suitable pay band or on a consolidated salary. Applicant should be an eminent scholar or a promising young academic. Normally, the tenure of appointment is two years. Age limit is 60 years. The Centre, at its discretion, may consider candidates in absentia.

For these positions candidates within any area of specialisation in Economics may apply. However, those specialising in agriculture, international trade, public finance/economics, environmental economics and finance would be preferred. External candidates must be qualified to teach economic theory, statistics and econometrics at the post-graduate level.

The Selection Committee reserves the right to relax the specifications stated here with respect to qualifications and experience in exceptional cases, select from outside the list of applicants and offer a higher salary to candidates having an outstanding teaching history, research experience or publications to their credit.

The Centre follows the UGC pattern of scales of pay for faculty. Other benefits currently include Contributory Provident Fund, gratuity, accident insurance coverage, contributory family-benefit scheme, medical reimbursement, welfare fund benefits, leave encashment upon retirement and campus housing subject to availability.

Interested candidates may send curriculum vitae on or before September 30, 2011 by post or email to
