

Dear Sir/Madam,

This letter is about conducting Avishkar 2014-15 district level rounds in your college during 13th to 19th October 2014 as per the schedule attached herewith. Kindly refer to the details of poster and power point presentation in the circular attached herewith along with the registration form for the benefit of students.

The Avishkar Coordinator of your college is requested to contact all the colleges in your district in the respective categories (C1, C2, C3, C4) for participation.

District and University level rounds in the category C6: Pharmacy will be coordinated by Dr Anuradha Majumdar (Email: anuradha.majumdar@gmail.com). District and University level rounds in the category C5: Engineering and Technology will be coordinated by Dr Ukarande, Dean, Faculty of Engineering and Technology (Email: deanfotuom@gmail.com). The dates and the details of the same will be communicated by DSW office.

The entries for the category C4: Agriculture and Animal husbandry will be evaluated along with Category C3.

In each category of C1, C2 and C3, there will be three panels of four judges each. Six judges will be drawn from outside and provided by OSD, Avishkar 2014-15 and six judges (two in each category) will be internal. There should be a group of four referees for each level of UG, PG and PhD + Teachers. Two of the referees should judge the presentations and other two referees should judge posters independently. The results will be collated at the end of the rounds.

For each category, three classrooms with LCD projectors will be needed. A simple arrangement with strings and clips be made for the display of the posters separately for each category. Charges for hiring Laptops, LCD projectors if needed will be borne by DSW.

At district level competitions, minimum 5 to maximum 10 best participants in each category (C1, C2, C3, C4 at UG, PG, PhD and teachers) should be recommended to DSW for their participation at University level competitions.

The honorarium of referees, travel expenses and accommodation in decent hotels, if any, and their expenses towards local hospitality will be taken care by DSW office.

The participants and accompanying teachers will have tea, breakfast, lunch etc on their own. The center is expected to make arrangements for the same in their canteen at reasonable rates.

Regards,

Yours faithfully,

Dr R T Sane
