Following is a letter dated 26th November, 2012 received from National Institute of Bank Management, NIBM Post Office, Kondhwe Khurd, Pune – 411 048, informing as under.

Sub: National Conference 2013- Bank of the Future
February 22-23, 2013.

Sir/Madam,

National Institute of Bank Management, an apex level autonomous institution set up in 1969 for training, research and advisory services for the banking industry, has been organizing an Annual Conference on contemporary themes related to banking and finance.

The broad theme of the conference for this year is the Bank of the Future with discussion tracks dedicated to the following subthemes:

- (i) Innovation led growth
- (ii) Customer at the centre
- (iii) Performance work culture
- (iv) Technology at the core

The Conference aims at bringing together eminent banking Professionals and academicians to discuss and debate on the above and thus envision the likely path of evolution of Indian banking industry.

We will appreciate if you would kindly circulate the brochure (also available at <http://nibmindia.org/NIBMSearch/TPBrouchers/Conf%20Brochure.pdf>) among researchers who would like to either submit a paper for discussion or participate in the conference. Papers submitted will be subject to usual review process before being accepted for presentation.

Details of the Conference are available in the enclosed Brochure.

Looking forward to your Institute's participation in the Conference.

Registration form available on www.nibmindia.org

Thankign you,

Yours faithfully,
